

The University of Regina has provided me with many valuable experiences since I moved here from Lagos, Nigeria in the summer of 2015 and now, I am keen to give back. I was privileged to work as a Resident's Assistant from January 2016 to May 2017. This position gave me a taste for what it is like to be of useful service to other people and the skills and experiences I gained from that period would serve me well in the role of Vice President Student Affairs. The opportunity to positively impact the lives of many students while at the same time presenting an avenue for me to learn from them as well is one that I am simply unable to pass up. The best path to continued progress is a path of teamwork and my vision for this great student union is bigger than me and I look forward to working with the students and executives of URSU to empower our students, identify and solve issues that affect the students and establish a culture of effective activism in issues that are relevant to our shared experiences as students.

I believe that an URSU that works for you is an URSU that works for me too and together, we can achieve this.

Adeolu Oriola.
